

Andrew Stead Consultant Partner Australasia

Andrew Stead is an internationally renowned Speaker, Writer and Executive Coach.

After Cambridge University and a decade at Goldman Sachs in Tokyo, New York and London, he set up a multi-million dollar environmental business before turning to the question of 'What Truly Matters?'

His focus is on Leadership, High Performing Teams, Organisational and Behavioural Change where he deploys his expertise in Resilience, Positive Psychology, Neuroscience and Mindfulness.

Delivering Speeches, Workshops and Executive Coaching, Andrew tackles the 21st century challenges of Stress & Burnout; Motivation, Engagement & Retention; Productivity & Performance; Happiness & Well-being.

He takes the best in science, wisdom, business and leadership, drawing from east and west, ancient and modern, to share his unparalleled mix of commercial and cultural experience, technical expertise, personal and inspirational stories.

He shares the Knowledge, Tools and Results that truly work.

Andrew's interventions are fun, entertaining and thought provoking, leaving his clients inspired, enthused and energised, always wanting more, their lives touched, reinvigorated, transformed.

He creates value for a spectrum of stakeholders encompassing leadership, government, institutions, organisations, communities and individuals. His clients are C-suite executives and the largest corporates around the world:

- Financial Services giants such as Goldman Sachs, Morgan Stanley, HSBC, Deloitte
- Hedge funds and Investors - THS Partners, RWC Partners & Jefferies
