

Britta Gonnermann
Consultant Partner
Germany

Britta is a seasoned consultant who has worked for 11 years in a variety of different senior leadership roles in HR (International Recruiting and Personal Development), and Organisational Development (OD) for the Otto Group (mailorder company), Roland Berger Strategy Consultants (strategic consultancy) and Eddie Bauer (retail organisation) in Germany and the US. She knows what it means for a leader to cope with transition, change and demanding expectations from various business partners.

For the last 10 years, Brittas' work focus has been organisational and management development as a facilitator, coach and catalyst. She has developed and led international programmes for The Boeing Company (Seattle), Louis Vuitton (Paris), Areva (Germany), GE Energy (France, Belgium, Hungary and UK), Novartis (Italy and Switzerland) and Beam Global Spirits (India, Canada and Scotland).

Britta holds a degree in business administration. She graduated from a 3-year-educational programme for Systemic Familytherapy in Munich and has finished a Masters Programme in Executive Coaching and Systemic Process Consulting at the Leadership Institute in Seattle, US. She has graduated in an educational programme on conflict exploration with Dr. Christoph Thomann in Bern, Switzerland to deepen her skills as a practitioner and leader. Qualified as a Communication Trainer based on methodology in 2012 educated by Schulz von Thun, Hamburg.

She is accredited in MBTI Step1 + 2, DISC and is a certified intercultural Trainer from the IKUD Institute, Göttingen.

Her clients value her authenticity, her mindfulness, her dedication and her passion for her work in change management projects, executive coaching, conflict exploration and leadership development.
